

THE HERALD.

JNO. P. BARRETT, EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 28, 1880.

THE nomination of Gen. E. H. Murray to be Governor of Utah, will, no doubt, be confirmed. The Committee in the Senate have recommended confirmation.

We received the enlarged and improved Madisonville Times last week, which is, if possible, a better paper than ever, but we could not expect any other kind of Zeno.

THE President has appointed James Russell Lowell, of Massachusetts, Minister to England; John W. Foster, of Indiana, Minister to Russia; Lucius Fairchild, of Wisconsin, Minister to Spain; Philip H. Morgan, of Louisiana, Minister to Mexico; and Eli H. Murray, of Kentucky, Governor of Utah Territory.

MR. F. W. GAYLOR is the newest, and we would not miss him far, to say one of the most popular conductors that ever managed a train on the P. & E. R. R. He is polite and attentive, and discharges his duty faithfully.

MR. WARREN G. BENTON is for the present engaged on the editorial and editorial staff of the Louisville Commercial, and will probably become a permanent fixture there. He is a ready, forcible writer, very industrious, and well adapted to the position.

HON. JNO. D. GILMORE, a native of Breckinridge county, Ky., and for a long time a resident of Cloverport, was shot to death at Columbus, Colorado county, Texas, in December last, by a drunken desperado named Jesse J. Harrison.

THE situation in Maine is, according to yesterday's daily journals, drawing to a head. The Fusionists have submitted their cause or the question of the legality of the two Legislatures to the Supreme Court, which will certainly decide against them, and the affair will be over.

We have a letter from Mr. V. M. Metcalf, who has promised positively to be on hand at our Fair Friday, February 6th. He will entertain those present with a talk about agriculture, horticulture, fertilization, &c. His lecture will be well worth all the trouble of coming, even if you do not take a premium. Let everybody come out.

THE Hon. Samuel Hill, of Hartford Ky., called at this office last Saturday. This gentleman represents, in the State Senate, the counties of Ohio, Butler and Muhlenberg, and there is no district better suited for him. Captain Hill takes especial pains to further the interests of agriculture, as far as it affects his constituents; and though a lawyer, and a good one too, he has no disposition to place the welfare of his profession ahead of that of the farmer.—Farmers Home Journal.

MISSISSIPPI has at last succeeded in electing a Senator. On the 22d inst. Gen. J. Z. George was elected the successor of B. K. Bruce, colored. With the retirement of Bruce, the last colored man leaves the Hall of Congress, probably not to return soon, as the Republicans have quit elevating them to office. Republican managers go upon the idea that the negro is good enough to vote but not to hold office any more.

OUR last grand jury returned no indictment against Deputy Revenue Collector J. A. Ray, for the killing of the two moonshiners down in Tracey, some months since. Their silence virtually exonerates Mr. Ray, who had, however, already been acquitted of all blame by every one cognizant of the particulars of the tragic affair.—Glasgow Times.

MR. Ray is well and favorably known in Hartford, having lived here for some time several years ago. His complete exoneration will be cheerful news to his friends here, who hold him in high esteem.

THE Bowling Green Intelligencer says that there lives in the Madison mill neighborhood, four Messrs. Harmon, brothers, each of whom was born on Christmas day, with an interval of two years between the birth of each.

THIS is a year fraught with interests big with events. We elect a President and Vice President; Congressmen; also Commonwealth's Attorneys, Judges of Circuit, Criminal and Common Pleas Courts, Circuit Clerks and Sheriffs. If you want to keep posted, subscribe for the HERALD, and you can easily do so.

Child Wedding.

The Glasgow Times learns of a marriage in Monroe county where the groom was only nineteen years old and the bride just eleven.

The "Scalp" Law.

This outrageous law was repealed by the Senate last week, and we hope the House will follow suit. This will lessen our estimated deficit 1,500 dollars per annum, or thereabouts.

Kellogg's Successor.

Hon. Randall Gibson was elected Senator from Louisiana on the 22d inst. receiving every vote cast. He is now filling his fourth term in the Lower House. He was born in Kentucky in 1832. He is the very soul of honor, and has the respect and confidence of all his constituents of all colors and parties. What a contrast when compared with Kellogg.

"Noble State of Maine."

Telegrams from different parts of the State of Maine announce that preparations are being made by each party in different towns and counties of the State, and an early attack on the State Capitol by the Fusionists is anticipated. The Fusionists have been losing ground ever since the expiration of Gov. Garcelon's term of office. Up to that time they had the heels of the Republicans, but, submitting questions to the Supreme Court of Maine has weakened their hold.

Call for a Republican State Convention.

In obedience to a resolution of the Republican State Central Committee, held January 22, 1880, in Louisville, a State convention is hereby called to meet in Louisville, Wednesday, the 14th day of April, 1880, at 12 o'clock M., for the purpose of selecting delegates to the National Republican Convention, to be held June 2, 1880, at Chicago.

The basis of representation agreed upon is one delegate for every fifty votes, and for each fraction thereof exceeding twenty-five cast for Hon. Walter Evans at the last gubernatorial election.

Also to transact such other business as may come before the convention.

GEORGE DENNIS, Jr., Chairman.

THOS. SPEED, Secretary.

The Hartford Herald Fair.

On Friday, February 6, the proprietors of the Hartford (Ohio county, Ky.) Herald will distribute among their patrons premiums on corn and tobacco to the amount of $200 in gold. The following is the list of premiums. Entry free to all subscribers in Ohio and adjoining counties to the Hartford Herald. For the last thirty ears of bread corn $25, second best $10, third best $5; best thirty ears stock corn $25, second best $10, third best $5; best sample 10 lbs. of tobacco $25, second best $10, third best $5; best sample 10 lbs. of tobacco $25, second best $10, third best $5.

The Adjutant General's Report.

The report of the Adjutant General Nichols shows that there are now in the service of the State twenty-two companies of infantry, one company of artillery and one company of cavalry. The infantry, with the exception of the Carrollton company, are armed with Springfield breech-loading muskets. Gen. Nichols recommends that companies be offered to fill the quota sixteen of infantry, one of artillery and two of cavalry be accepted from suitable localities. He advises that every company be properly uniformed and proceed with elementary drill before getting arms—a suggestion which strikes us as being entirely sensible, and he recommends that every proper method should be used to secure the efficiency of the whole body of militia. The repeal of the military tax twenty-five cents on each male person between eighteen and forty-five years is deprecated as discouraging the organization of the companies and crippling the resources for keeping up the military organization.—Courier Journal.

Notes from the Capitol.

FRANKFORT, KY., Jan. 25, 1880. Editor Herald. Notwithstanding the House refused, by a vote, last week to instruct the committee on Retrenchment and Reform, to bring in a bill to reduce the salaries of all the officers of the Commonwealth, the committee has again been heard from, and a bill has been reported reducing the salaries from about $25,000 to $23,000. Your correspondent does not pretend to say that the reduction, as proposed for in the bill, is exactly right, yet he is free to say that he thinks it is a little more like retrenchment and reform than the bill of last week, beginning at the judges and magistrates. The latter reports, however, raised quite a hooch in the House, and motions to recommit and postpone, were immediately heard. The general salary bill was postponed until Wednesday, the 28th, and the separate bill reducing the salary of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, from three to two thousand dollars per annum, was passed by the House.

Bills for two new counties have been reported by the appropriate committee to be named respectively Blackburn and Merrivether, so you see there is a prospect that the venerable "gentleman from Jefferson" will have a successor in the bill.

The whipping-post has been revived, and on yesterday was passed by the House, and will doubtless pass the Senate. This we regard as an ill-considered measure—a law that will be a dead letter on the Statutes, so far as its enforcement is concerned, and but a chance for a few more blows to the State.

A bill taxing bowie-knives, pistols &c., has been reported, but is unimproved. This savors more of progress, and we hope, will be seriously considered. The joint committee on Education was held upon a second adjournment, bearing a memorial from said association, asking aid and encouragement to their work in the work of Education. They were received with Mr. White, Secretary, who introduced them to the Committee, after which they delivered their message with becoming gracefulness—each making short speeches.

The joint committee on the penitentiary has made a report to the two Houses, but no report has yet been taken on said report except to have same printed. This report is a very interesting document, and gives information that has been suggested for the relief of the State prison. Through there is a diversity of opinion, we are inclined to think that the report is a prevailing light. The "gentleman from Ohio," Mr. White, continues still to belabor the House with his political harangues, sparing neither Democrat nor Republican, who does not win at his political efforts to crash the Democratic party. Some very appropriate reproaches have been administered by different members, but none with better effect than the one offered by Hon. John F. Feland, of Christian, who in response to some member on the floor who deprecated the "dragging of politics" into this House, said he had been a representative in this body for several years and had never brought politics into legislation, and he hoped he never would do so, and might cleave to the roof of his mouth and his right arm fall powerless to his side, for he felt that politics was as much out of place in this floor as in a court of justice. Those reproaches, however, seem to fall fruitless at the feet of the "gentleman from Ohio."

Among the distinguished visitors at the Capitol, is Gen. Jarvis Jackson, of Laurel county, who is now in his 83rd year, yet remarkably hale for his age.

Glasgow County Census.

ST. LOUIS, MO., Jan. 26, 1880. Editor Herald. I wish you would allow me a small space in your valuable paper in order that I may defend myself and my place myself before the public right as a druggist. Now, I think the correspondent from Goff's feels himself as large as did the Roman Emperor Nero, when he exclaimed veni, vidi, vici. He never came, saw, nor did he conquer, but I have no doubt but what he sold a great many bottles of his medicine, and he could not tell what Local Option was. His assertion misses the mark very widely. For instance, Spring Lick has a population of about 250 or 300, and there are two drug stores, but the capital investment is so far above that invested at Goff's that if you were to visit Spring Lick, and then visit Goff's you would think the concern at Goff's was simply a commissary department for a third class hotel. Now, I hope our friend at Goff's will settle down and learn that the best way to keep the public from knowing that he does not know anything is to keep a still tongue. I have never known any body in my life to make any money by attending to other people's business. 'Tis an old maxim, and a true one, a still tongue makes a wise head. Now, old friend, just "cheese your racket" and let us alone. You never will make a fortune by attending to other people's business. Ta, ta, bundy.

THE STATE CAPITOL.

Our Correspondent's Views About the Whipping Post and the Pardoning of Convicts.

On last Saturday Governor Blackburn pardoned 85 men out of the penitentiary at Frankfort. We presume that the rural readers throughout the State will shake their heads and ponder upon the wisdom of this extraordinary procedure, but the circumstances were such as to fully justify the act. Nay, had the number been 300 instead of 85, still it would have been a just thing. We happened to be in Frankfort at the time of the exodus of the liberated men. And while our eyes have been soiled by the sight of these wretchedness in their deepest degradation while tears upon our face have been an unknown accomplishment, or weakness, if such it be, yet we must say that we never had a deeper sympathy, than when we beheld the emaciated figures, the wan, pale faces and sunken, sullen spirits of those poor unfortunate men who had been incarcerated in a prison more cruel than the battle, men who, under the inspiration of an evil thought or passion, or in a moment of anger, had committed some transgression against the majesty of Kentucky's laws, for which they had been sentenced to terms in the State's prison, and who, shut away from the gaze and sympathies of a thoughtful and cruel world, had been subjected to the most barbarous cruelties and inhuman treatment. Our hearts sickened at the sight. We endeavored to intercede some of the unfortunates, but had to give it up in anger. One gentleman, a newspaper reporter, told us that after spending three hours in the prison, he came out with such a feeling of disgust, that he would have joined a mob to demolish that infernal hole. Said he, "If the citizens of Kentucky realized the half of what is true, in regard to this affair, they would rise en masse and destroy the whole d—n thing." Many of the 85 will reach their homes only to die, and others will linger on in wretchedness and disgrace, being disabled for life. The horrors of the prison, the degradation, the loss of all fair-minded men who would do anything of the facts, and he has won the affections of the large class of sufferers liberated from the death hole. It is a disgrace and a dark blot on Kentucky's name, and a stain on the honor of our high boast of civility and civilization to foster such an institution in our midst. In the very echo of our halls of justice, under the very shadow of our Capitol, and within the sound of music and mirth of a gay and festive city, there have been men murdered by inches, starved in a land of plenty, rotting with scurvy for want of the most common elements which nature has given to man in so cheap and abundant form, as Irish potato and cabbage, suffocating in a damp, filthy hospital with 180 cubic feet of air, which God has filled the earth with plenty, and when the laws of nature inspire from 800 to 1,000 cubic feet of air.

We are glad that the Legislature has at last awakened to the crisis. We hope that they will spare the time enough from dancing and gossiping with the ladies who fill about the Capitol as mules fit before a lighted candle, to settle this question by wise provisions against the possibility of a recurrence of such a state of affairs.

THE WHIPPING POST.

Again the bill to establish a whipping post penalty in Kentucky has been introduced at Frankfort and the lower House passed the bill. Our representative, to his credit be it said, opposed the bill. While in Frankfort we heard several members of the Senate express themselves in favor of the bill, that it really looks as if we were to go back to the days of semi-barbarism—to place ourselves on a level with Russia and China with respect to this law, which is a mark of mercy, blessing both the giver and as well as the receiver, cures both the giver and receiver. No man, be he high or low, or anybody else, will take a lash and lay on blows upon a helpless fellowman without being helped by the act. No one can witness without much less sympathy, and without being degraded and injured, a man who is degraded and injured to be re-imposed and given a black eye by his constituents.

We have not room to argue the case, nor answer the arguments offered in support of the bill. It is not an answer to say that the expense incident to punishing petty offenders is so great, and that it would be avoided by whipping; granted; and yet it would cost less to shoot them than it would to whip them, but no one would shoot them in our shoddy and worthless and petty offenders. It costs a vast deal to the State to take care of cripples and invalids. Instead of being a blessing to the State, like the bill I have mentioned, it is a curse to the State, and it is a curse to the State to put to death all cripples and aged persons as useless incumbrances. How the bill is a curse to the State, and it is a curse to the State to put to death all cripples and aged persons as useless incumbrances. How the bill is a curse to the State, and it is a curse to the State to put to death all cripples and aged persons as useless incumbrances.

No, her cheeks cannot be tinged with the roseate hues of youth, they appear pale and bloodless; her eyes should sparkle and her intellect should attract all beneath her genial smiles, but she is dull, stupid and lacks the heretofore that nimble step and that merry laugh, her appetite has failed, her bowels constipated, her head aches, her heart palpitates, she is nervous and restless, she is gradually declining. Her blood is impoverished and the whole system un-sound.

But what is to be done? She cannot remain thus. A remedy, sure and pleasant has already been prepared for such cases and it never fails. It is known as English Female Bitters the great female regulator and tonic of the present day.

BLOBS.

Blobbs was a good fellow, but on account of some arrangement of his system, his head was frequently "off a little." He was a shoemaker, hence was closely confined all day, and very often late night. He had constant headache, with pain in the back, loss of appetite, sour stomach and constipation of the bowels. He frequently arose in the morning with fever and dull headache. He became more and more un-social and indifferent.

Blobbs sent him a dollar to the Drug Store for a bottle of Bailey's Saline Aperient, and after a few days of cooking, opened his bowels, unlocked his liver and he at once became a healthy and happy man.

THE MILLENNIUM.

According to evidence gleaned from a certain elderly Doctor who is en-couraged and the attractions of some of the rural districts of Kentucky, the climax of the Millennium will be about the year 1896, and that during that year of "peace and good will to all men," the great feast will be executed by the Capital by a regiment of beautiful women.

On the evening of the 17th, the girls of Elmo took a Leap Year hop at the residence of Mr. James Martin, which was quite a success. The girls composing the first set were Misses Cam Burt, Julia Felix, Bettie Turner, Lou Spurrer, Fanny Martin, Lida Thomas, Florence Martin, Gertrude Thomas, Mollie Martin, Ida Monroe, Cornelia Hines, and Mrs. Fide Wibe. Some of the boys are disabled, they didn't get to dance as much as they wanted to. It was funny to hear that young gentlemen beg a lady to dance. We won't call any names, but guess he knows. We hope the girls will give another hop soon.

Nephew Springs Items.

SHELBYSPRINGS, KY., Jan. 24, 1880. Editor Herald.

Gabriel Crow, the youngest son of Andrew Crow, died about 8 o'clock last night with pneumonia. Aged about 15 years.

It is thought that Mrs. America Fitzhugh will not live until sun-down. I suppose her recovery is entirely impossible.

LATEL—Mrs. Fitzhugh died Saturday night about 2 o'clock.

There are no more changes or items that I know of worth mentioning.

Gilbert Tobacco Warehouse.

LOUISVILLE, KY., Jan. 1, 1880.

DEAR SIR:—After returning our thanks for past favors and wishing you a prosperous and happy new year, we take this method of announcing to you and the public, that we have withdrawn from the "Tobacco Board of Trade," and in doing so, we have not a word to say against it. It was a good institution in "its day." Recently it has been guilty of some follies that we did not approve but protested against, hence we are involved in no vexatious and expensive lawsuits with any of the buyers.

The fees for selling tobacco, to both buyer and seller, being, and perhaps not too high at the time of their adoption (soon after the war) when labor, rents, money and in fact everything was high, and at a time, too, when it was almost impossible necessary to employ traveling agents, now since there has been quite a depreciation in value of everything, and especially since the tobacco market of Louisville is so well established and known to be the leading market for all shades and grades of tobacco, and there are so many avenues of information opened up, and leading to almost every man's door, acquainting him daily with the state of the market, etc., we can see no good reason for continuing the services of that class of gentlemen above alluded to, and appropriate their salaries in another direction, or more properly speaking, leave it where it legitimately belongs, in the pockets of the seller.

We can do this only by reducing our fees, or by a system of rebate, either of which was a violation of the rules of the "Board of Trade." And, in order to make it a violation of the rules of the "Board," we have decided to deduct ten pounds for samples, this we think is not right, but like all other rules, members are bound to accept it, and abide the consequences of a violation.

We think we have given reasons enough for withdrawing from the "Tobacco Board of Trade," and we are feeling to conduct our business in our own way, subject only to the approval of our own conscience and those for whom we are responsible.

All tobacco received after this day we will sell at a reduction of 50 cents each to seller and buyer. Rejection fee will be $1.50 instead of $2.50 as heretofore. We will make no deduction for samples, instead of 10 lbs. as heretofore.

Soliciting a liberal share of your patronage, we are,

Very respectfully yours,

GILBERT, HUDSON & CO.

Mark your bids, "Gilbert House."

Tobacco.

The Louisville market, on Monday, was steady and firm at our quotations for the week ending Jan. 24, which appear elsewhere in this issue.

Echoes from our Neighbors.

If the fifteen hundred negroes now at work on the O. & N. railroad in this county, are left in the lurch, what a whipping majority the Republicans will have at the next August election.

The confirmation, by the Senate, of the appointment of Mr. Lavin Reno as postmaster at Owensboro, to succeed Mr. S. C. Wing, is received with much pleasure by his Greenville friends. That he will be fully and satisfactorily fulfill the duties of the office is a matter admissible of not the least doubt.

She Can't Blink.

No, her cheeks cannot be tinged with the roseate hues of youth, they appear pale and bloodless; her eyes should sparkle and her intellect should attract all beneath her genial smiles, but she is dull, stupid and lacks the heretofore that nimble step and that merry laugh, her appetite has failed, her bowels constipated, her head aches, her heart palpitates, she is nervous and restless, she is gradually declining. He thinks whiskey a great obstruction to the Millennium, but uses a "wee drop" himself at times. Another curious idea promulgated, is, that Day's Ague Tonic is destined to become the great salvation of the American people for the complete cure and eradication of all forms of chills and fever, as it is the only remedial agent now before the people, which possesses and combines all needed ingredients capable of destroying and antagonizing every species of malarious poison.

THE HERALD.

LUCYRUS BARRETT - LOCAL EDITOR.
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 28, 1880.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce Geo. W. Bunker as a candidate for Sheriff of Ohio county. Subject to the action of the Democratic party. Election, August, 1880.

A. C. Ellis is a candidate for the office of Sheriff of Ohio county at the next August election, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

For the best coffee, go to Geo. A. Platt's.

Choice cigars and tobacco, at Foster & Hill's.

Watches, clocks and jewelry repaired at W. H. Eldon's.

Boys' home knit socks at Anderson's Bazaar.

There is a great deal of sickness throughout the entire county.

Best quality of New Orleans sugar, now crop, at G. A. Platt's.

Anderson's Bazaar will receive a big stock of clothing in a few days.

For the cheapest groceries in town, call on Geo. A. Platt. All his stock is fresh.

A few opera kid gloves, two buttons, at 35 cts. a pair, still left at Anderson's Bazaar.

Stock sales next Monday. If you have a surplus of stock bring it in on that day.

There was more drunkenness in town last week than we have seen for a long time.

W. D. Westfield, of Beda, says he shelled a basket of corn recently from sixty-five ears.

Rev. J. S. McDaniel is holding a protracted meeting at Concord church. Quite an interest is being manifested.

Remember our corn and tobacco fair comes off next Friday night. Prepare your samples and be in readiness.

Foster & Hill have the most choice family groceries in town. Remember this, and buy your supplies of them.

The cheapest place in Hartford to have your horses well taken care of is at Field's stable. They receive every attention.

FOUND—A man's buck glove for right hand, owner can get same by calling at HERALD office and paying the charges.

Several weddings are on the tapis in this county; such were the unmistakable evidences at Anderson's Bazaar last week.

All watches, clocks and jewelry left with W. H. Eldon will receive prompt attention and marked down as cheap as any in the State.

Dan F. Tracy keeps the finest lot of funeral furniture in the county, without any exception, and cheaper than ever, for cash.

L. F. Woerner wants what is owing him, and those indebted who do not heed will find their accounts in the hands of an officer.

LAST—A gentleman's walking cane, with an imitation of a dog's head as a handle. The finder will please leave it at this office.

It is cruel to neglect your horses when Henry Field will care for them so well. Take them to him and have them well fed and rubbed.

Remember the auction sales next Monday. Persons wanting to sell stock should bring it in that day, and those wanting to buy should come.

We learn that Mrs. Stanley, wife of Capt. A. B. Stanley, living near Rochester, was accidentally poisoned last week, from which she died on Friday.

A nice lot of two-horse farm wagons for sale cheap, in order to make room for spring stock.

DAN F. TRACY.

If you want to get married go to Anderson's Bazaar. If you want to live long and prosper, go to Anderson's Bazaar. If you want to be happy, go to Anderson's Bazaar.

We saw a drunken man on the street last week who frequently indulged in the remark that he was a "daisy." We failed to see the similarity and thought he would be more appropriately styled a d—d fool.

We are glad to announce that Mr. Geo. A. Platt, who has been in Louisville for several months under the treatment of physicians, is improving and will return home in a very short time.

Mrs. Mattie Tichenor, wife of Aaron Tichenor, living near Point Pleasant, has been in a state of non compos mentis since last Saturday night. It is hoped that this freak is only temporary.

The Baptist protracted meeting which closed at Mr. Carmel a few days ago was of unusual interest, and accomplished much good. There were 44 conversions, all of whom were baptized last Tuesday.

We will sell our best at coffee 20 cts. per pound. A No. 1 Davison county whiskey at 50 cts. per quart. We also have a lot of ladies' and men's over-shoes at or near cost.

BEFORD, KY.

We invite the attention of our readers to the liberal advertisement of Messrs. G. J. Bean & Son, in this issue. They are live business men, and mean just what they say. Give them a call when you want anything in their line.

Our young friends C. M. Pendleton and H. B. Kinsolving were commissioned, last week, by Governor Blackburn, as Notary Publics of Ohio county. The commissioning of these gentlemen are good ones, as they are both young men of energy, good intellect and business qualifications, and will attend to all business in this line quite satisfactorily.

By consulting our advertising columns the reader will see the card of those who make commission merchants, D. K. Mason & Co., proprietors of the People's Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky. This is a new, live firm, fully up to the interests of the tobacco trade, and have facilities for storing, selling, &c., unsurpassed by no house in the city.

A trial of Place's Cure will convince you that it is a good remedy for Coughs, Bronchitis and Asthma. 1-2m

Subscribers to this paper for 1880, who may in full for the year, get a valuable book of 160 pages, free. Call early pay up, and obtain the premium. 1c

All persons indebted to Dr. J. E. Pendleton by note or account, before Jan. 1st 1879, are requested to call at my office, upstairs opposite HERALD office, and settle the same.

CHAS. M. PENDLETON,
Collector of claims.

"The Home Guide, or A Book by 500 Ladies," is a volume of 160 pages, containing 1,000 practical recipes and hints on Cookery, the Household, the Toilet, the Sick Room, etc., a copy of which we present to every subscriber who pays in full for 1880. Improve this opportunity. 1-4c

A rather peculiar case of poisoning occurred in town last Friday night. Mr. John Greenwood, little daughter and a young Mr. Warden were taken sick after eating supper. Dr. Pendleton was sent for who pronounced it poison. It cannot be accounted for unless it was from eating some souse, as none of the parties had eaten of it. The parties have about recovered from the effects thereof.

Mr. E. S. Edgerton respectfully informs the citizens of Hartford and vicinity, that he intends to remain at this place and carry on the painting business in all its branches, horse, sign and carriage work, graining, paper hanging, &c., done in the latest style. All work guaranteed to give satisfaction. All favors in his line will be thankfully received, and promptly attended to. E. S. EDGERTON.

Last Thursday's Good Templar Advocate came to us draped in mourning for the death of Mrs. Mattie J. Demaree, wife of the editor, and Grand Worthy Chief Templar of Kentucky, which was held at the residence of Mr. Demaree, January 15, 1880. Mrs. Demaree was noted for her intellect, sweetness of disposition, charitable nature, kindness and affection for her husband and children and last her love of worship for her Master. Her demise is a heavy burden to the grief-stricken husband and little children. We extend to them our tear of sympathy.

At five o'clock yesterday morning a gloom was cast over this community by the announcement of the death of Miss Jennie Bennett, who has been at the point of death for several days with typhoid fever. Miss Jennie was an ornament to society, and was loved by everybody who knew her, and the snapping of the tender cord of life sends an ache to the hearts of all her acquaintances. Her pure spirit has winged its flight to a better world, and her sweet smiles and amiable disposition, that were such comforts to her widowed mother, can never be supplemented by another in the family circle. She has gone, and the angels are holding high carnival over the new soul that is done with the trials of earth. Her funeral will take place this morning at 10 o'clock.

Death is no respecter of persons. It comes at an unexpected hour and takes away the fairest and loveliest of earth. The old, the young, the rich and poor, all have to share alike, this fate, but it is pretty when in a few short hours, the father, mother and child, are called from time to eternity. Such was the case last week in the western portion of the county. Mr. D. H. Katon, wife and child all died of pneumonia, in about 24 hours of each other. The child died on Friday night the 16th, the father on Sunday night the 18th, and the mother on Monday night the 19th. Mrs. Katon was a sister of Mr. Thos. Williams, living near this place, and for many years previous to her death was a member of the Baptist church, holding her membership at Green Brier. As a wife, she was loving and kind, and as a mother, affectionate and true. They leave but one child, Effie, who will be kindly cared for by relatives.

We call the attention of our readers, especially the tobacco men, to the card of Gilbert, Hudson & Co., proprietors of the Gilbert Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky. It is worth a careful perusal. They propose to stop the expense of a traveling agent to secure consignments, and to give their customers the benefit of the money thus saved. In order to do this they had to withdraw from the Tobacco Board of Trade. There is a saving of from 50 to 150 cents, say an average of $100 per hoghead, and a commission of 50 cents less, each, to buyer and seller, making a difference of another $100. If you reject a sale they charge only $150 instead of $250. Here is a saving to the seller of $200 on each hoghead if the sale stands, and $500 on each hoghead if rejected. This is a huge little sum, and as they offer storage and all the other accommodations to shippers offered by the Board of Trade Warehouse, it seems like it would be to the interest of the seller to give this house his consignments—at least it is worth an investigation.

PERSONAL.

Squire James Lambrooks, of Davison county, was in town Saturday.

G. B. Thomson, Esq., of Elm Lick Station, dropped in on us last Saturday.

Mr. A. T. Nall is suffering from a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

Samuel Turner, Esq., of Point Pleasant, was in town last Monday and called to see us.

Henry Ballentine, Esq., of Rumsey, Ky., was in town last Monday night. He called to see us while here.

Miss Laura Midkiff, who has been quite sick at her home on Locust street, is much better.

Mr. Clyde A. Lawton, of South Carolina, was in town last week, the guest of his grandfather, Judge C. J. Lawton.

W. W. Powell, Esq., representing the Enterprise Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky., was in town last week settling shipments.

Rev. B. E. Kirtley, of Stanford, Lincoln county, Ky., agent for the Southern and Indian missions, was in town a day or two last week settling donations.

Mr. W. G. Head, of this city, has rented a tobacco house in Hartford, Ky., where he will buy and prize a large amount of tobacco this season.—Herald's Home Journal.

New Bar-Room in Town.

We take this method of informing the citizens of Hartford and surrounding country that we have rented the well-known and popular bar-room connected with the Canon House, where we will keep constantly on hand the best brands of whiskeys, brandies, wines, &c., also tobacco and cigars. Mr. F. Hines has been employed as clerk, who will be found ready to wait upon customers. Kindly soliciting your favor and patronage, we are respectfully,

F. M. HEVINS & SON.

An Elegant Preparation.

Designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative, is found in Parker's Hair Balsam. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to its original youthful color and beauty. Falling hair is immediately checked by its use, and it produces a growth of beautiful young hair, soft, glossy and luxuriant, that surprises everyone. These properties added to its exquisite perfume and purity of composition, render it the growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Sold in large bottles, at only 50 cts. and 1 dollar by D. Wayne Griffin & Bro., druggists generally. 2-cow 3m.

Persons by Telephone.

The pulpit of the Dartmouth College church, at Hanover, N. H., has been furnished with a telephone, the wires from which run to the house of every aged member of the congregation. "The trial," it is announced, "was a perfect success. Every word spoken and the singing of the hymns were distinctly intelligible to interested auditors at over a dozen houses in town. The pastor, the Rev. Dr. Leedy, preached a very instructive sermon, which could be distinctly heard at Norwich depot and village, two miles or more away, and across the Connecticut river."

Alexander's Hotel.

This popular hostelry, conducted by Capt. J. O. Alexander and his estimable wife, during the year just closed, met with unprecedented success, the net receipts far surpassed those of any previous year. Capt. Alexander is the growing favorite of the hotel business in the city of Louisville for fifteen years, and notwithstanding his loss by fire in October 1876, we do not see the most successful and successful landlord in Kentucky during that time. He is admirably adapted for the business, and the popular favor in which he was held was attested last year by the fact that hundreds of persons who sought his hospitable cheer had to seek lodgings elsewhere, his capacity for entertaining was taxed to the utmost. Long may Capt. Alexander and his good wife live to entertain the traveling public and lead the business of the Falls City.—Bowling Green Democrat.

Died.

Near Pottsville, Ohio county, Kentucky, January 21st, 1880, of croup, Ann Eliza, daughter of John M. and Ellen Bolling, aged 14 months and 21 days. On the evening of the 22nd her remains were taken to her grandfather's, Thomas Phillips, where the funeral services were held by Rev. Calvin Voyles. After service the remains were interred in the family graveyard. The following is an extract of the sermon: She has gone from the trials and sorrows below. To that land where the rivers of happiness flow. She has gone from the trouble and turmoil of this world to that region where joys everlasting have birth.

FORBES.

Faith in Jesus.

The following was written by Jesse Park, Esq., to his wife, July 10, 1878. Mr. Park was in bad health, but lingered on until Dec. 12, 1879, when death relieved him of his suffering:

DEAR DULCY—I sit down to write you a few lines, that you may look upon when the hand that now writes, will sleep in yonder graveyard, and the spirit that now dwells in this body will, I believe, be praising God for his redeeming grace and dying love. I have no merit of my own, but in Jesus I rest my weary head, and by faith I view my inheritance to have a right to the tree of life, and be saved by Jesus' death upon the cross. Dear companion, be faithful to the end. You will have a hard time here with our little one. Be patient, remember that God has promised to be your friend, and if God is for you, who can be against you.

JESSE PARK.

For Sale.

A splendid safe for sale at a good bargain. Call at once on John P. Barrett.

A Rare Treat in Town.

We have engaged Mr. V. M. Metcalf to lecture for the benefit of those who may attend our corn and tobacco fair. He is thoroughly posted in agriculture, in all its phases, is decidedly practical in his notions and is a pleasant entertaining speaker.

Our fair will take place as soon as the season is suitable and gives the farmers a chance to select their best samples which can be done while stripping and husking. We will give notice of the time through the paper.

New Barber Shop.

The only first class shop ever in Calhoun county. We are located next door to L. W. Gate's law office. You can get work done on Sunday as well as any other day in the week, at very low prices. Give me a call, I am here to stay. Only 10 cents a shave. ELSA YORKE.

Investors and Patentees.

Should send for instructions, terms, references, &c., to Edison Brothers, Solicitors of Patents, Washington, D. C., who furnish the same without charge. Edison Brothers is a well-known and successful firm of large experience, having been established in 1866. 50-4f

The Best Horse-book in the World.

A treatise on the horse and his diseases, by Dr. B. J. Kendall, of Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. It is nicely illustrated with 34 engravings, and is full of useful horse knowledge. Every horse owner should have a copy of it. We will give a COPY FREE TO EVERY SUBSCRIBER OF THE HARTFORD HERALD FOR 1880.

Kentucky Road Laws.

Kentucky law commits the care of public roads to the County Courts, the courts leave it to the overseers, the overseers leave it to the people, and the people leave the roads to the contractors. The overseers are indictable by the grand jury of the Circuit Court, which convenes twice a year, but it takes a jury of domesticated asses to assess much of a fine against an overseer under such circumstances, and when he is fined it takes a lot of concentrated power to get him to pay the fine. Our road law won't do to imitate.—Hickman Courier.

DR. TUTT'S

Expectorant

IN 25 CTS. AND 51 BOTTLES.

Its properties are Demulcent, Nutritive, Balsamic, Soothing and Healing. Combining all these qualities, it is the most effective LUNG BALM ever offered to sufferers from pulmonary diseases.

DR. J. F. HAYWOOD,

of New York, voluntarily indorses it.

—READ WHAT HE SAYS—

Dr. TUTT'S—During this year I have had hundreds of cases of Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and other pulmonary diseases, and I can say with confidence that I have never known a case of any of these diseases which did not yield to the use of Dr. TUTT'S EXpectorant. I have seen it cure a child of three years of age, and a man of sixty years of age, and I have seen it cure a case of Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and other pulmonary diseases, and I can say with confidence that I have never known a case of any of these diseases which did not yield to the use of Dr. TUTT'S EXpectorant. I have seen it cure a child of three years of age, and a man of sixty years of age, and I have seen it cure a case of Croup, Whooping Cough, Sore Throat, and other pulmonary diseases, and I can say with confidence that I have never known a case of any of these diseases which did not yield to the use of Dr. TUTT'S EXpectorant.

IMPORTANT QUESTIONS.

Reader, have you caught a cold? Are you unable to raise the phlegm? Have you an irritation in the throat? A sense of oppression on the lungs, with shortness of breath? Do you have a cough on waking up? Do you have a sharp pain now and then in the region of the heart, shortness and back? If so, our advice is to take at once a box of Dr. TUTT'S EXpectorant. You will soon be able to raise the phlegm. In an hour repeat the Expectorant, place a cloth on the feet, take a warm bath, and wake up in the morning, cough gone, lungs working freely, easy breathing, and the bowels moving in a natural manner. To prevent a return of these symptoms use the Expectorant several days.
